About Antonia

Antonia Mahon, Founder and Principal Designer of Blue Sparks

Antonia Mahon is the founder of Blue Sparks, a Paris-based design studio that helps international clients find, buy, renovate, and design their dream homes in the City of Light.

Originally from Ireland, Antonia moved to Paris in 1999 and quickly fell in love with its architecture, design traditions, and irresistible blend of elegance and everyday beauty. After purchasing and renovating her first Parisian apartment in 2004, she went on to train in Architectural Interior Design at the Inchbald School of Design in London.

With over 25 years in Paris, Antonia brings a rare combination of creative vision, cultural fluency, and deep practical knowledge of French real estate and renovation. Fully bilingual in English and French, she guides English-speaking clients through the entire journey of creating a Paris home — from property search and purchase support to renovation planning, project management, and interior design.

Clients describe Antonia as warm, intuitive, process-driven, and exceptionally detail-oriented. She is known for blending historical charm with contemporary comfort, creating interiors that feel elegant, personal, and unmistakably Parisian. With her trusted network of agents, notaries, contractors, and artisans, she delivers a smooth, joyful experience for clients — many of whom live abroad during the project.

Antonia specializes in making Paris living both possible and delightful, turning each client's vision into a home that feels effortless the moment they walk in.

Our Story

Blue Sparks was created with a clear mission: to make the experience of creating a home in Paris as seamless, inspiring, and beautifully executed as the city itself. As a full-service design studio, Blue Sparks supports international clients through every stage of their Paris home journey — from property search and purchase support to renovation oversight and bespoke interior design. Basically, from start to finish all the way to the last finishing touches.

Rooted in decades of local experience and supported by a trusted Paris-based network, Blue Sparks brings clarity to a complex process, bridging language, culture, and logistics for clients who often live abroad. Blue Sparks' work blends the character of Parisian architecture with modern comfort and thoughtful practicality, resulting in homes that feel elegant, personal, and effortlessly livable.

Clients describe the Blue Sparks experience as warm, intuitive, and exceptionally well managed — a true partnership that transforms a Paris property into a place that feels like home from the moment you walk in.

“Design should feel effortless — a home that welcomes you the moment you arrive.”

Blue Sparks helps international clients find, buy, and transform their perfect Paris home — from property search to renovation, design, and the final touches — with expert guidance, creative vision, and trusted bilingual support.
